48th Gene Key: Wisdom

The 48th Siddhi of Wisdom is one of the truly great Siddhis. Wisdom has been revered and sought by all cultures since the beginning of time...It is something all human beings aspire to, and at the same time it is something that terrifies us...because it opens up the void inside you. In the human being, it is the state of NOT KNOWING...humans have intuitively grasped that wisdom is feminine in essence...Water is one of the greatest symbols for the nature of wisdom because its nature is paradoxical—empty yet full, weak yet strong, resistant yet yielding. Ultimately it shapes itself to the vessel it is held in, and when the vessel has gone, it dissipates yet lives on. One who is truly wise is like water in all these ways—you are wise because you do not know you are wise, you are powerful because you do not care about power, you are fearless because you do not really exist.

P374-375

Sophia is the essence of wisdom. As is the nature of humans, we have come to seek her with our minds ...to understand and know her...to know about her... to know her story... and yet...

To truly know her may take us to places, we avoid going at all costs...

“There is no darker place represented anywhere within human DNA than the 48th Shadow. This Shadow gives rise to one of the deepest of human fears—the fear that we are inherently inadequate...each of us will have to look deeply into this primal fear if we are to make the great leap that now lies before us...The 48th Shadow seeps into our genes to undermine us through a deep sense of emotional inadequacy...The frequency that the 48th Shadow releases into the cells of your body emerges as a profound uncertainty about the future and your ability to handle it...it programs humans to try to stay in control of every area of our lives. We create a false reality of details, timelines and systems all designed to make us feel more secure...The irony is that nothing external can take away our core fear of INADEQUACY.”

P369-370

So, as with all Gene Keys, the seed of inadequacy is planted so that ultimately, the Tree of Wisdom can grow WITHIN US.

The secret of moving beyond the reach of the 48th Shadow can be found in a single word: Trust. (Remember everyplace we go, Sophia has gone there before us. AND She exists always “in the center” of EVERYTHING!)

This means that instead of running from our fears, or protecting ourselves from every known catastrophe, we must begin to lean into our fears. By leaning in, we actually lessen our mental anxiety and, wonder of wonders, discover our gift: Our own flavor of Resourcefulness.

We are moving into our understanding of Mercury ~ Our Mental Body.

If we allow our search for Wisdom to only be ventured with our mind, we will miss it. Rather our mind is here to bring its own unique gifts. Gifts that you may have never dreamed possible...gifts that you bring naturally, just by being you.

MERCURY ~ YOUR MENTAL BODY

“Every person processes information in a unique and exciting way. Some people are more adept than others. It is not as simple as measuring an intelligence quotient. The more interesting measurement of information processing is the mental principle under which the incarnation is operating. This principle basically determines how the personal mind interfaces with the Great Mind of the cosmos.

Mercury represents that part of you. Mercury was the messenger god who brought messages back and forth between the upper gods, Great Mind) and people (lower mind).”

Mercury in RECIPROCITY

Your Mercury in Reciprocity makes you very interested in balance, harmony, and peace. You never accept ideas until you measure their fullness. In other words, you are also interested in the balancing energy of an idea. It is important to you that the ideas you put forth always contribute not only to your own inner peace but to that of the collective. Thoughts are bridges for you. They connect the dots. They make life make sense. Although you have a brilliant mind, you are not particularly academic. You do not like to argue for argument's sake. You like to connect and flow through proper use of ideas, thoughts, and words.

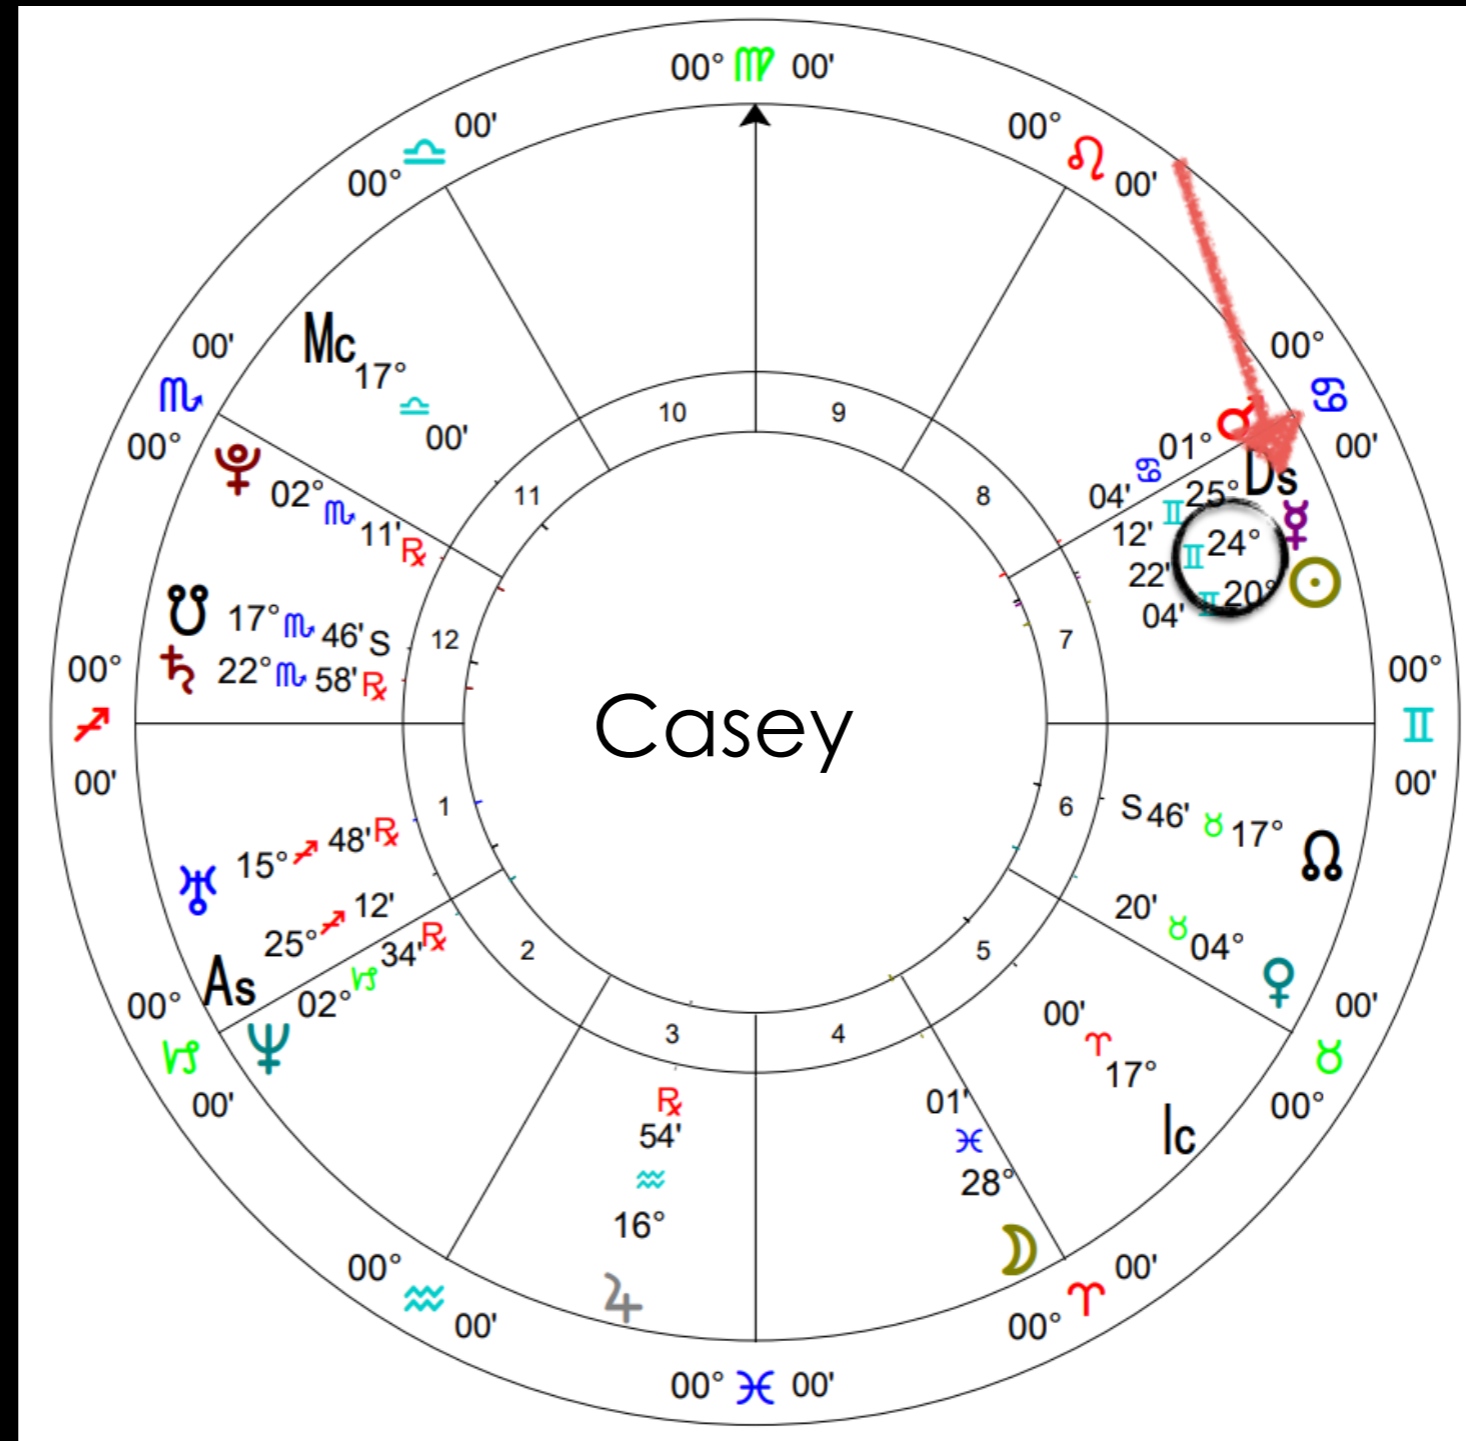

Sun in PLACEMENT

With your Sun, your primary principle in Placement, we know that you are a stabilizing force for all who know you. You could be called the anchor point for your entire soul cluster, and it is probable that you fill that role for your friends and family, too. You are the centering force around which all vibration can express. This most likely means that on the most superficial levels, where you live, work, and focus your life is very important to you. On the more esoteric levels, it means that you are deeply rooted in your beingness, and that rootedness radiates out of you to the other people around you. Each step you take on the earth creates a ripple effect, like walking on water, and it actually provides help and motivation for others in your sphere.

Mercury in HUMILITY

When you placed your Mercury in Humility, you accepted a very deep responsibility. Your mind must align itself with your own authentic self in order to work well. If you ever try to work outside that deep self-knowing, you get mentally confused. This is a challenge because you can get myopic if you allow yourself. However, as you mature spiritually, you will find that this is a true gift. You have the unique mental ability to see the outer world more clearly by measuring it against an inner authority. You have the ability to know what is authentic within yourself. Therefore, you have a measuring stick or plumb line to see what is authentic in the collective mind. Humility in the mental body requires ruthlessness of thinking—cutting away all that is untrue without hesitation.

Mercury in INTELLIGENCE

This Placement could be a paradox. It seems like it should indicate genius. However, it indicates that you think uniquely and that you process information more in your nervous system than in your brain. You are smart, no question. You know how to take data in and process it. You know how to juxtapose thoughts and ideas more quickly than most people. And you know how to calculate the results of your thinking. This ability may not register as making good grades in school or receiving high scores on standardized tests, because it may mean that you think so differently from most people that you cannot relate to the ordinary learning processes. On the other hand, it may mean that you are very good in school but not very good in other aspects of life (say athletics or relationships) because your mental dominance prevents you from mastering physical and/or emotional skills. However, with your mental body in the principle of Intelligence, we know that in this lifetime, you are developing amazing mental skills and that they will serve you and your community beneficially.

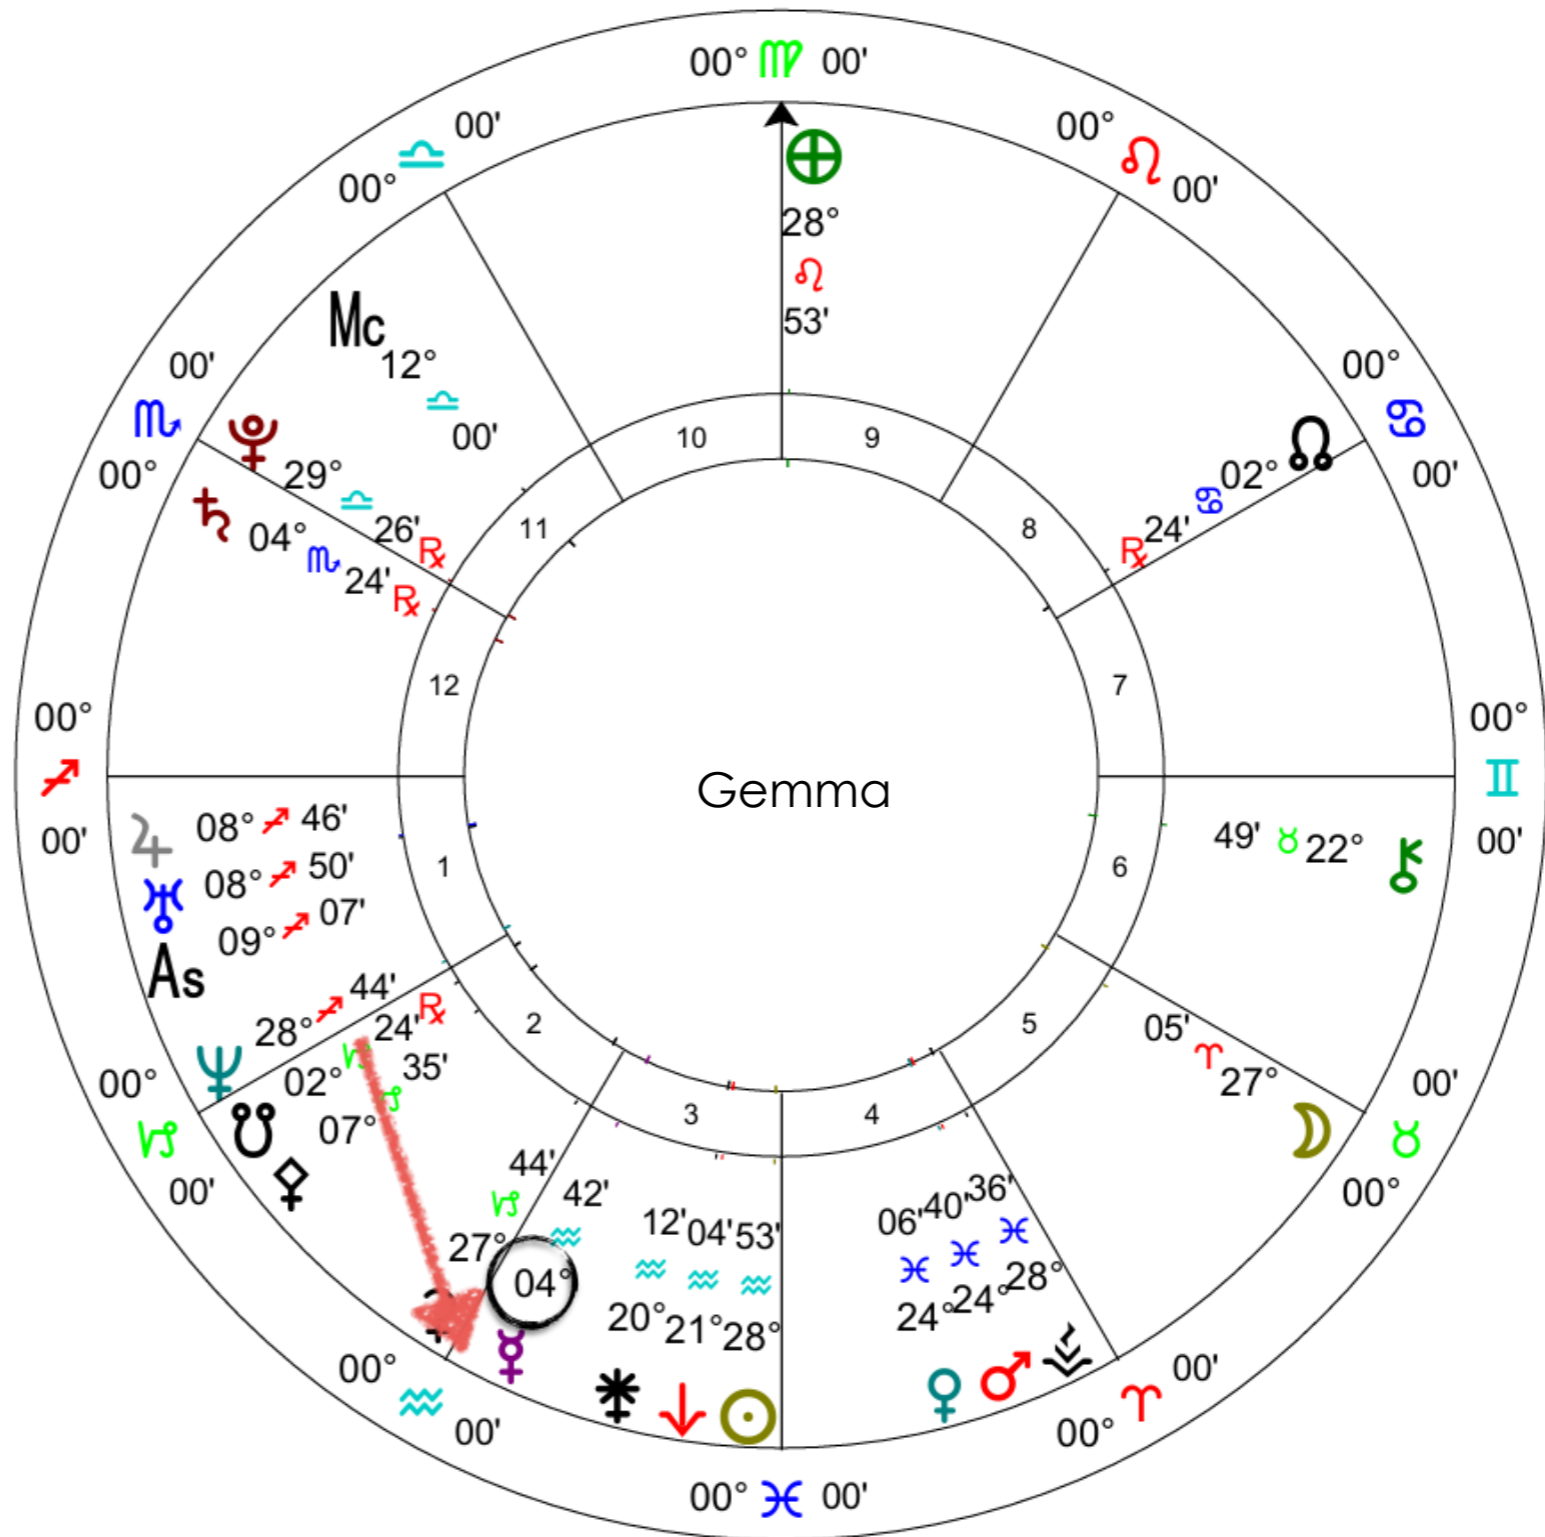

Mercury in REGENERATION

With your mental body in the principle of Regeneration, we know that you are consistently replenishing both your own mind and the collective mind with clarity—clean thoughts. You are most likely a student of life, and your learning always helps replenish your mental system in healthy ways. Like skin that regenerates itself, you tend to slough off old thoughts that are “dead” and develop new thought cells often. Of course, also like the human body, you do not develop an entirely new paradigm. You stay within the original flow of the riverbed of your mind—but you never let the water of your thoughts become stagnant.

Mercury in BEAUTY

Your mental body has a natural bent toward seeing the divine perfection in all ideas. You know how to recognize Beauty, and you know how to amplify it through your thought processes. In other words, if left to your own devices, your mental process will always consider, magnetize, and focus on the natural unfolding of the Beauty Way. This may be hard for you, because people may accuse you of a naivete in your thinking. Standing strong in the face of cynicism is not easy. However, you must rest in the truth that your mind is one that sees simplicity and grace. In truth, simplicity can also see complexity—whereas complexity can often not see simplicity. So, your mental position is one of expanded consciousness!

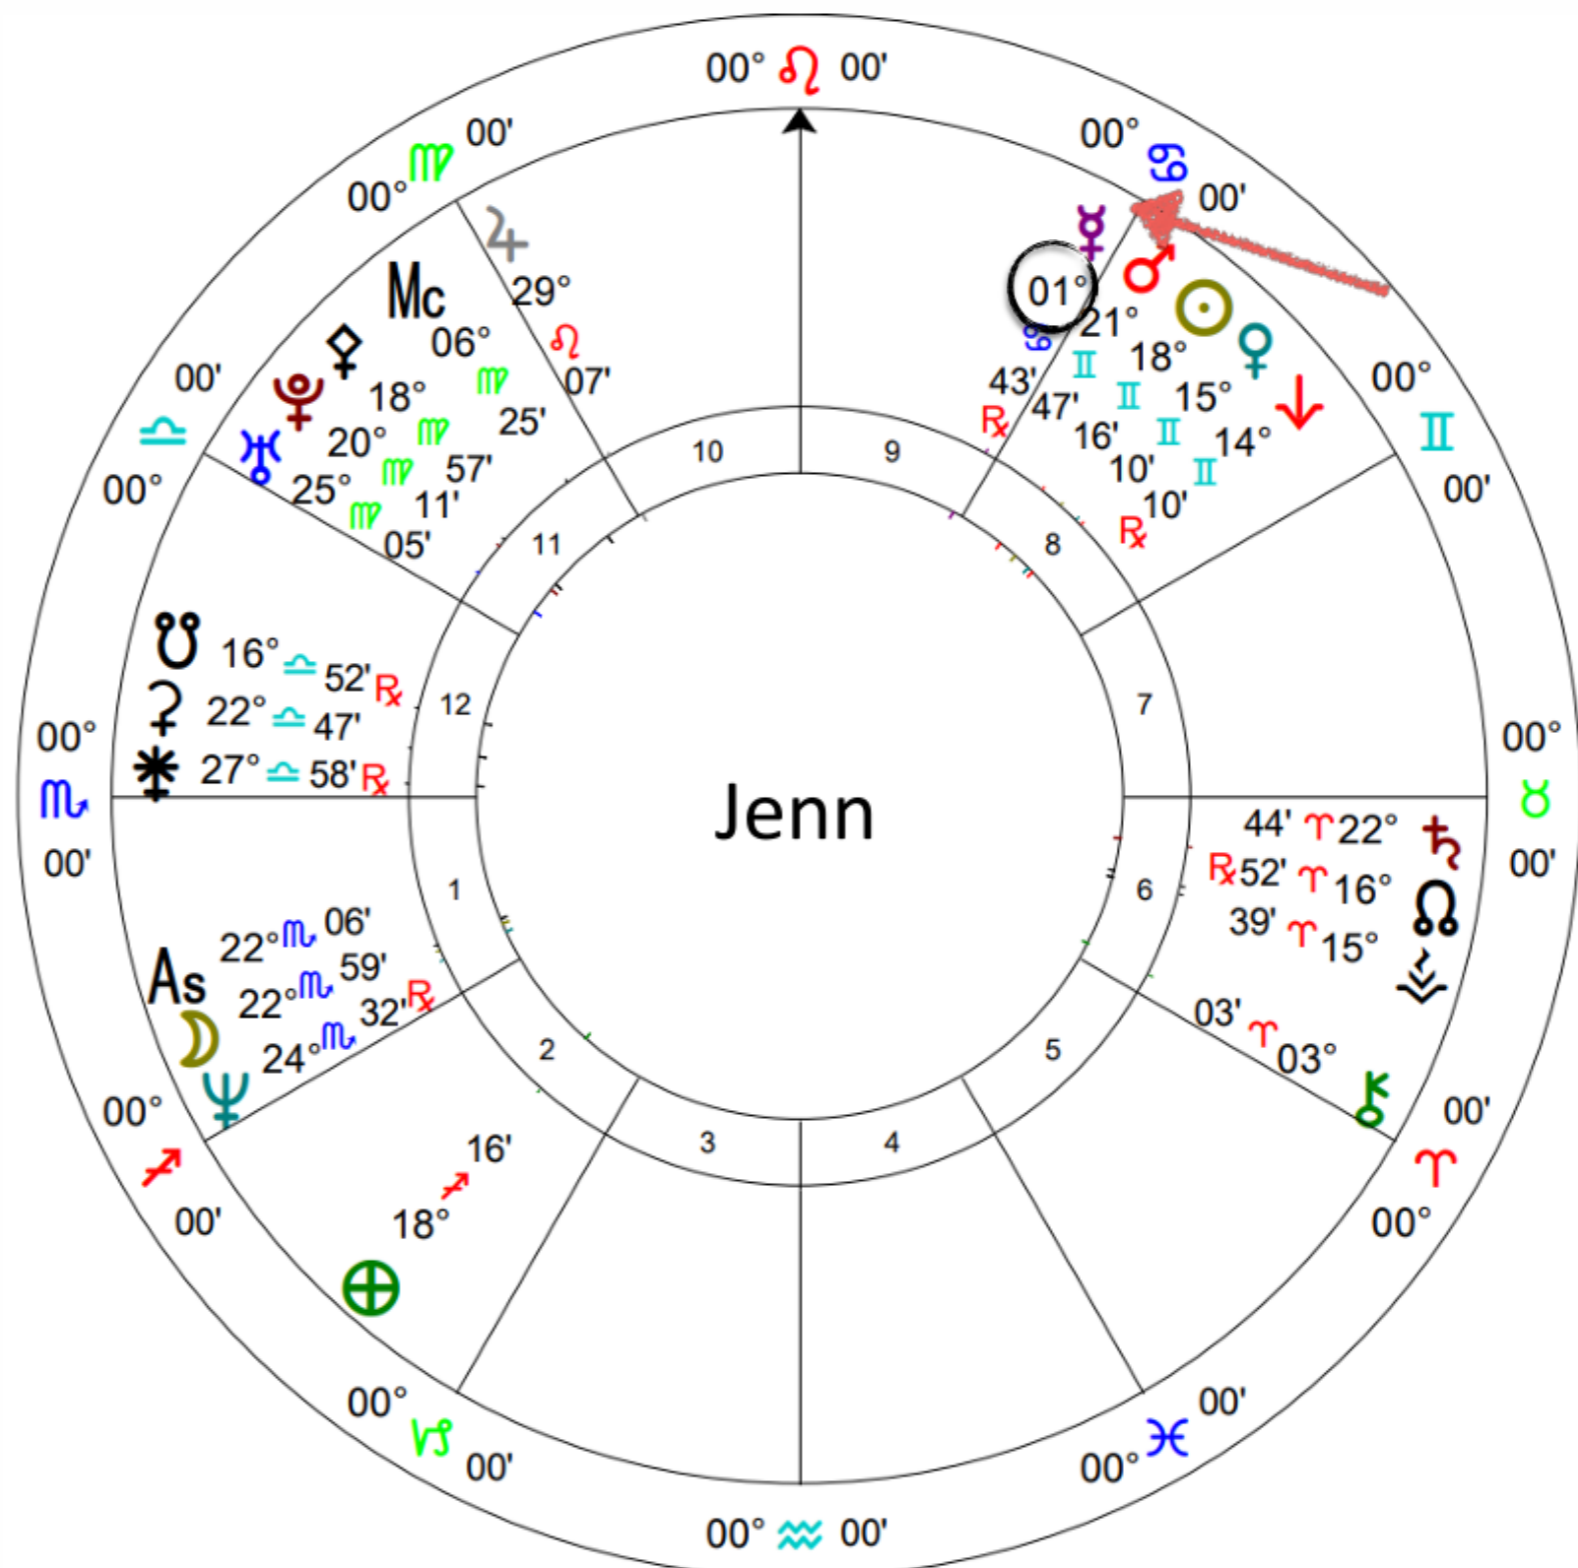

Moon in RANDOMNESS

Your Moon in Randomness indicates that you have a certain proficiency in coming out of the chaos of life with the right decision! You know how to trust chaos—let work its magic, present its options, and eventually weave the right thread. “Trust” is the keyword here. Most people who are not familiar with the power of Randomness panic when the path become foggy, and they often make decisions and take willful action in the wrong timing. You, on the other hand, have an innate ability to wait, trust, watch intently, and leap when the timing is right.

Mercury in INNOCENCE

Innocence is the perfect mental principle. It means that you stay ready to learn, eager to explore in an unbiased and a fresh way. Although you will certainly develop opinions and discernment as you mature your Innocence, you will never develop cynicism and pessimism. It means that you can rely on your mind. There is mental stability to an innocent mental body—it does not confuse itself with the facts.

There is mental stability to an innocent mental body—it does not confuse itself with the facts.

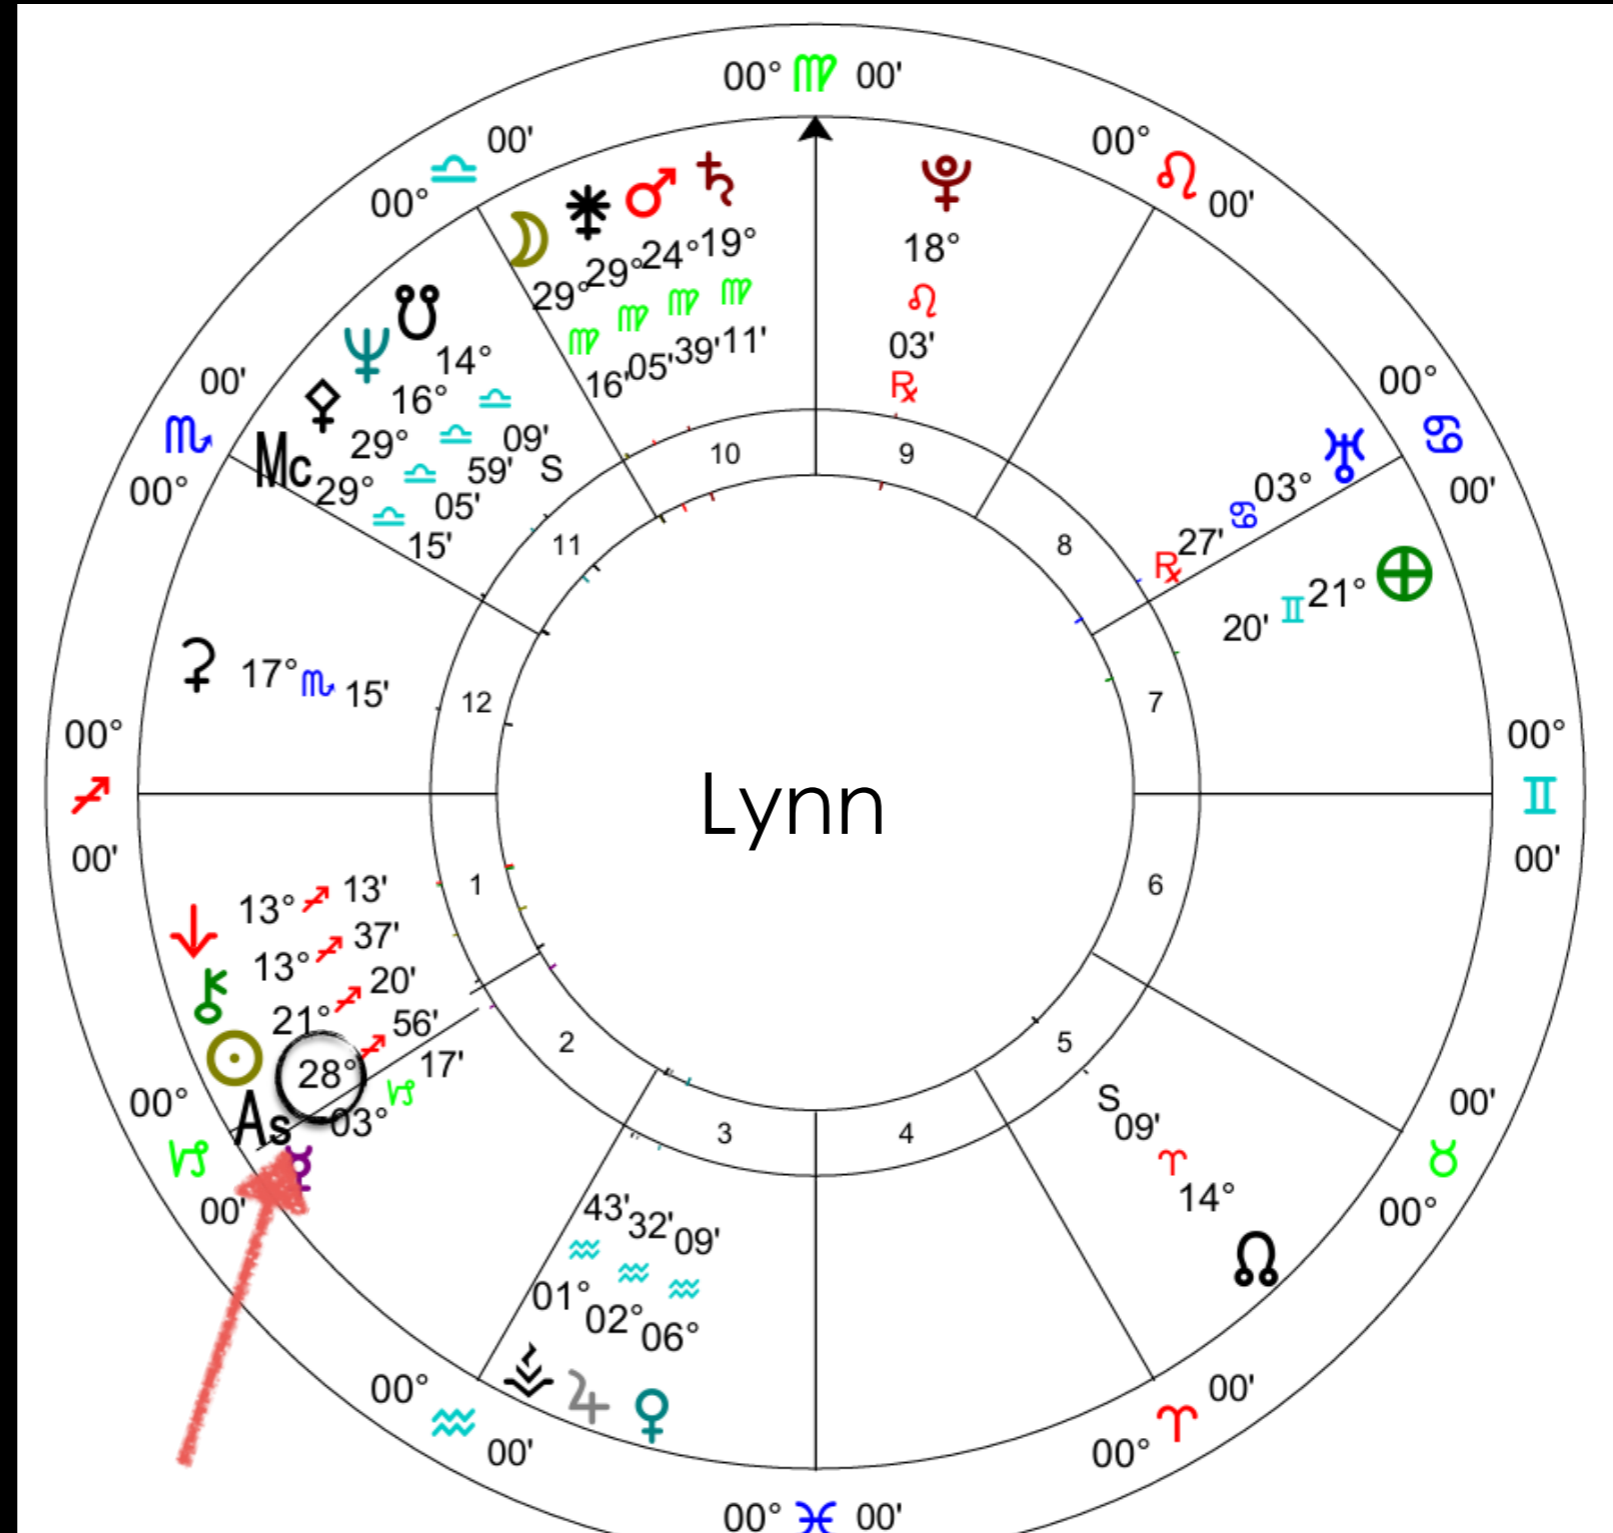

Moon in PURITY

With your mental body in the principle of Purity, we know that you have a very special way of thinking and processing information. First, you do not like error. Flawed thinking is an annoyance to you. You are particularly interested in always going to the source or the original intent behind an idea. You can see the basic reason for an idea coming forth—and you like to work from that. So, it becomes very complex. You are not a ruthless logical thinker, yet if there is a flaw in the logic that was woven in somewhere between conception and product, you are ruthless about eliminating the error. There is a sweetness to the way you think that endears everyone around you, because your commitment is to the purity of the idea.

Ascendant in MOVEMENT

With your behavioral body in the principle of Movement, we know that you are always looking for the most benevolent possible way to deliver your soul's gift to the planet. "Highest" could mean most efficient, or it could mean most evolved. Each time you make a decision, you take all kinds of things into consideration, including how this decision will affect all the dynamics—personal, family, social, the plants, the animals, the planet, the angels, all the way to God and back. You may not be fully aware of this need to "serve" all sentience, but it is certainly in the implicate order of your contract. It is a very strong ethical position and may sometimes feel like a burden if you do not fully understand the power behind your choices. Each choice you make DOES indeed affect the universe. Some part of you knows that.

Mercury in MEMORY

Mercury in Memory means that your mind thinks along the continuum of life. You have access to what might be called the "Hall of Records" of the cosmos. Everything that has ever happened is recorded in cosmic memory. Everything that resides in the realm of potential is also recorded. Your mind has the possibility of accessing those records. In order for this to happen, you must learn to relax your personal mind, suspend all judgment and opinion, and allow the mind to follow the track of Memory to the collective mind. You are always interested in balance and healing, so any thought that leads to separatist or fundamentalist thinking will be rejected by your mind.

Mercury in GOODNESS

Placing your mental body in the principle of Goodness did not insure that you would always see the “good” side or that you would be one of those “love and light” New Agers. It really meant that you are more interested in the purity of the mental process than you are in the results or structure (belief systems) of the mind. You are not necessarily logical or reasonable, because you are more attracted to truth than facts, and you are more galvanized by inspiration than by argument. Your mind is akin to the animal mind—you sense what is right, true, and has mental value, and then you go for the proof!

Mercury in PLACEMENT

With Mercury in Placement, we know that you use thoughts and ideas to ground yourself. If you do not understand where you are, what is going on, what is being said, you do not feel present. You have developed a mind that is dependable and deep. In cases of profound understanding (perhaps in deep meditation), you have the ability to tune into what might be called "original thought." Your mind can extend itself into the beginnings of form and understand intention and origin!

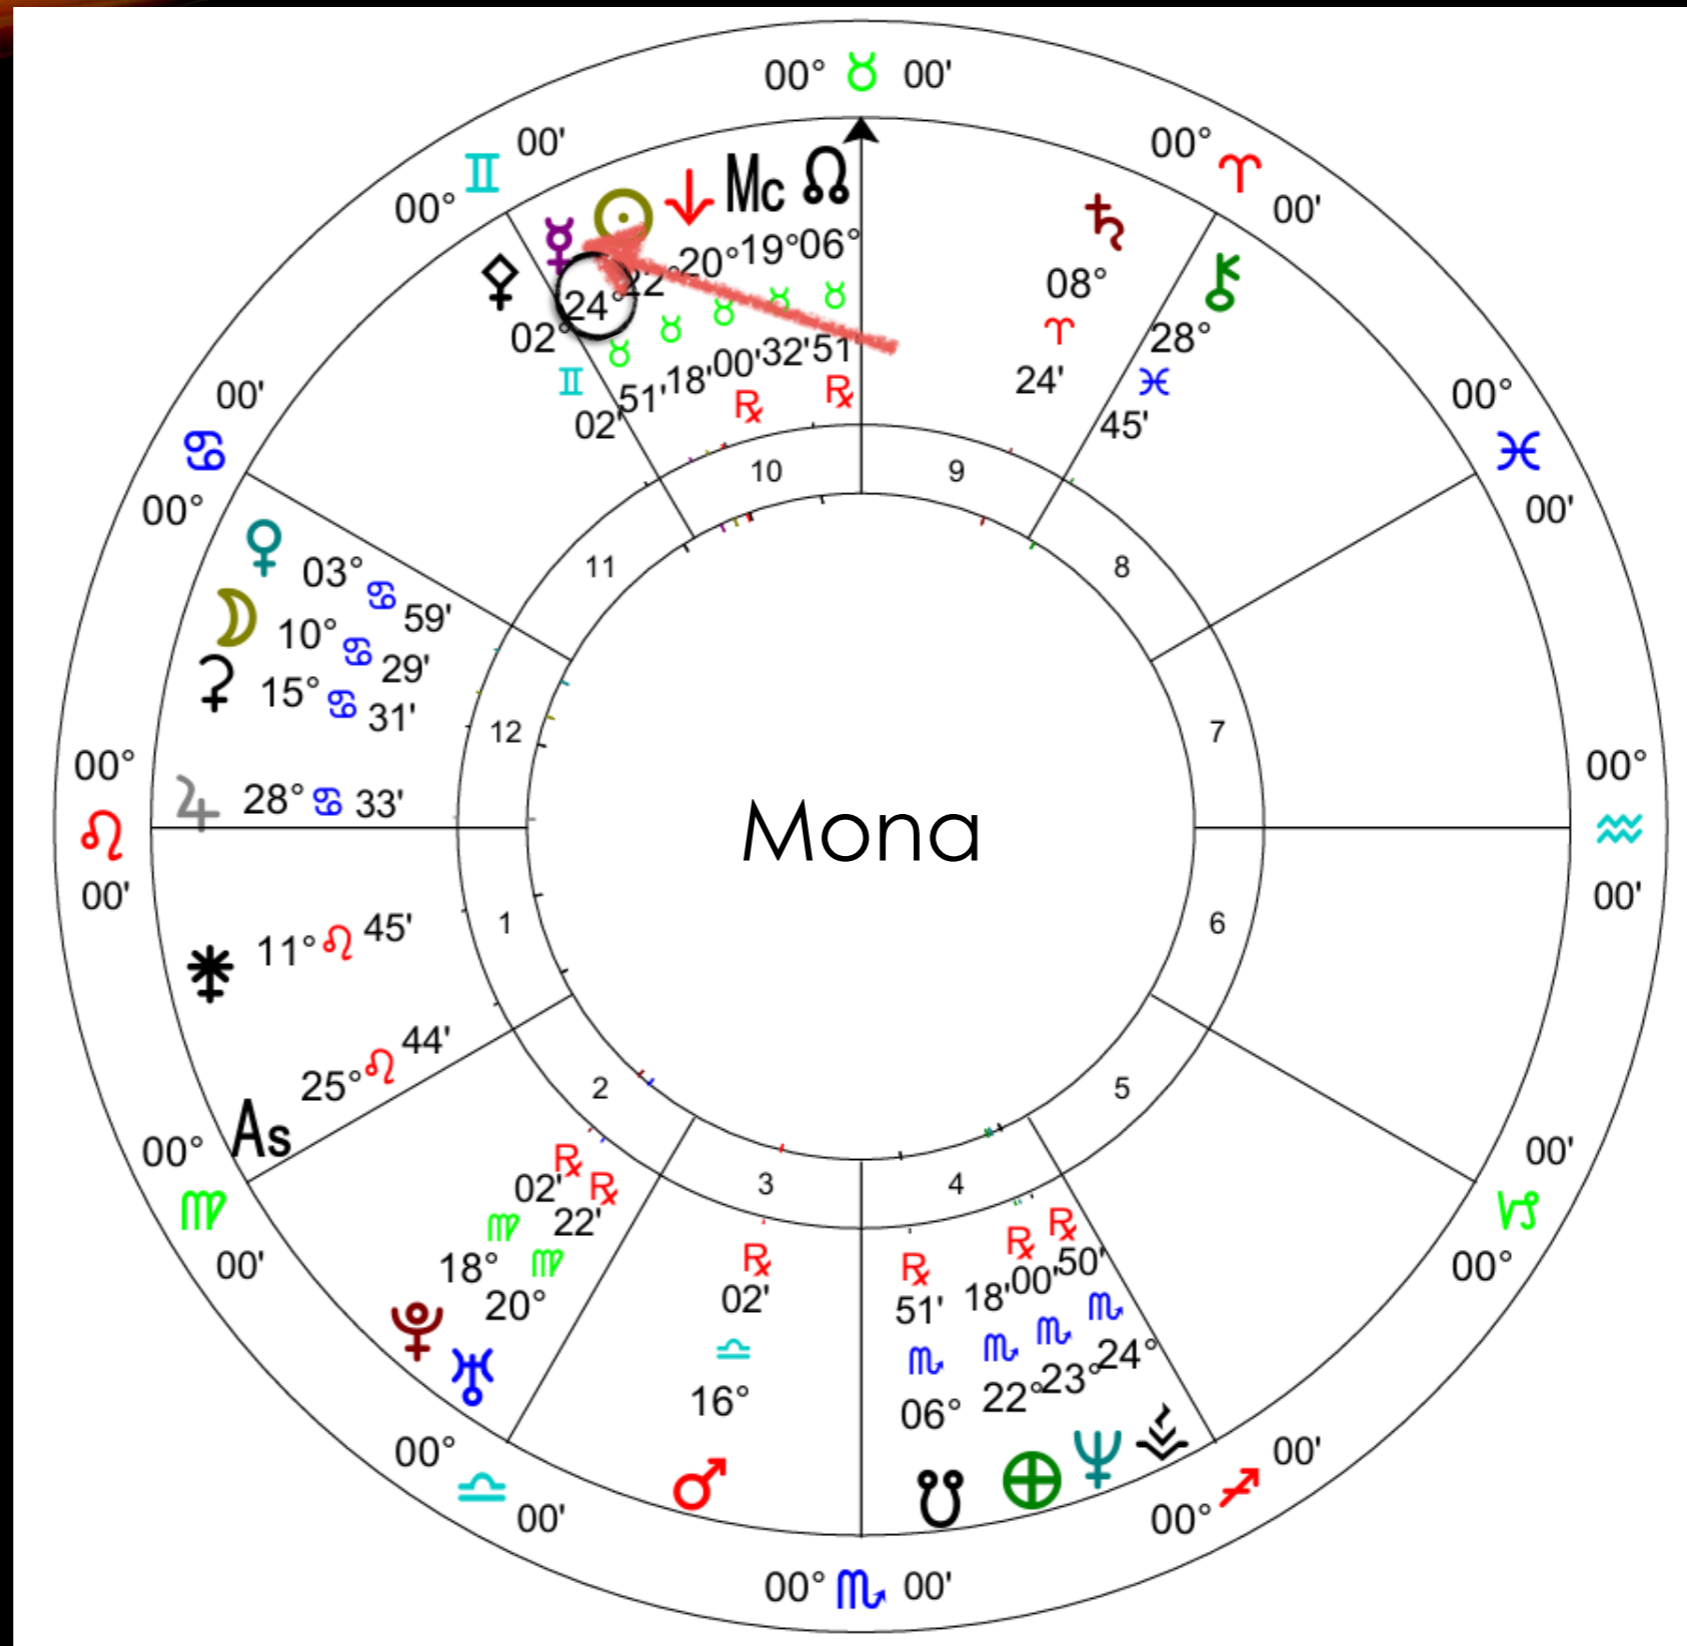

Mercury in UNITY

Because Unity is in the genetic line, it is possible that you contracted with the mental body of your gene pool. In other words, you chose this gene pool because the way they think was a necessary part of your life. This may be because the way your ancestors processed information is strong and helpful for you—or it may be that the way they processed information needs purification and/or transformation. Either way, this is a very strong part of your life. Unity is the principle most needed in the world today. Our technological burst of the last century has simultaneously connected us in one big web and divided us into little tiny pieces. Unity at work in the world will bring us into a synthesis that allows us all to evolve. To learn to use our minds to unite is a beautiful goal.

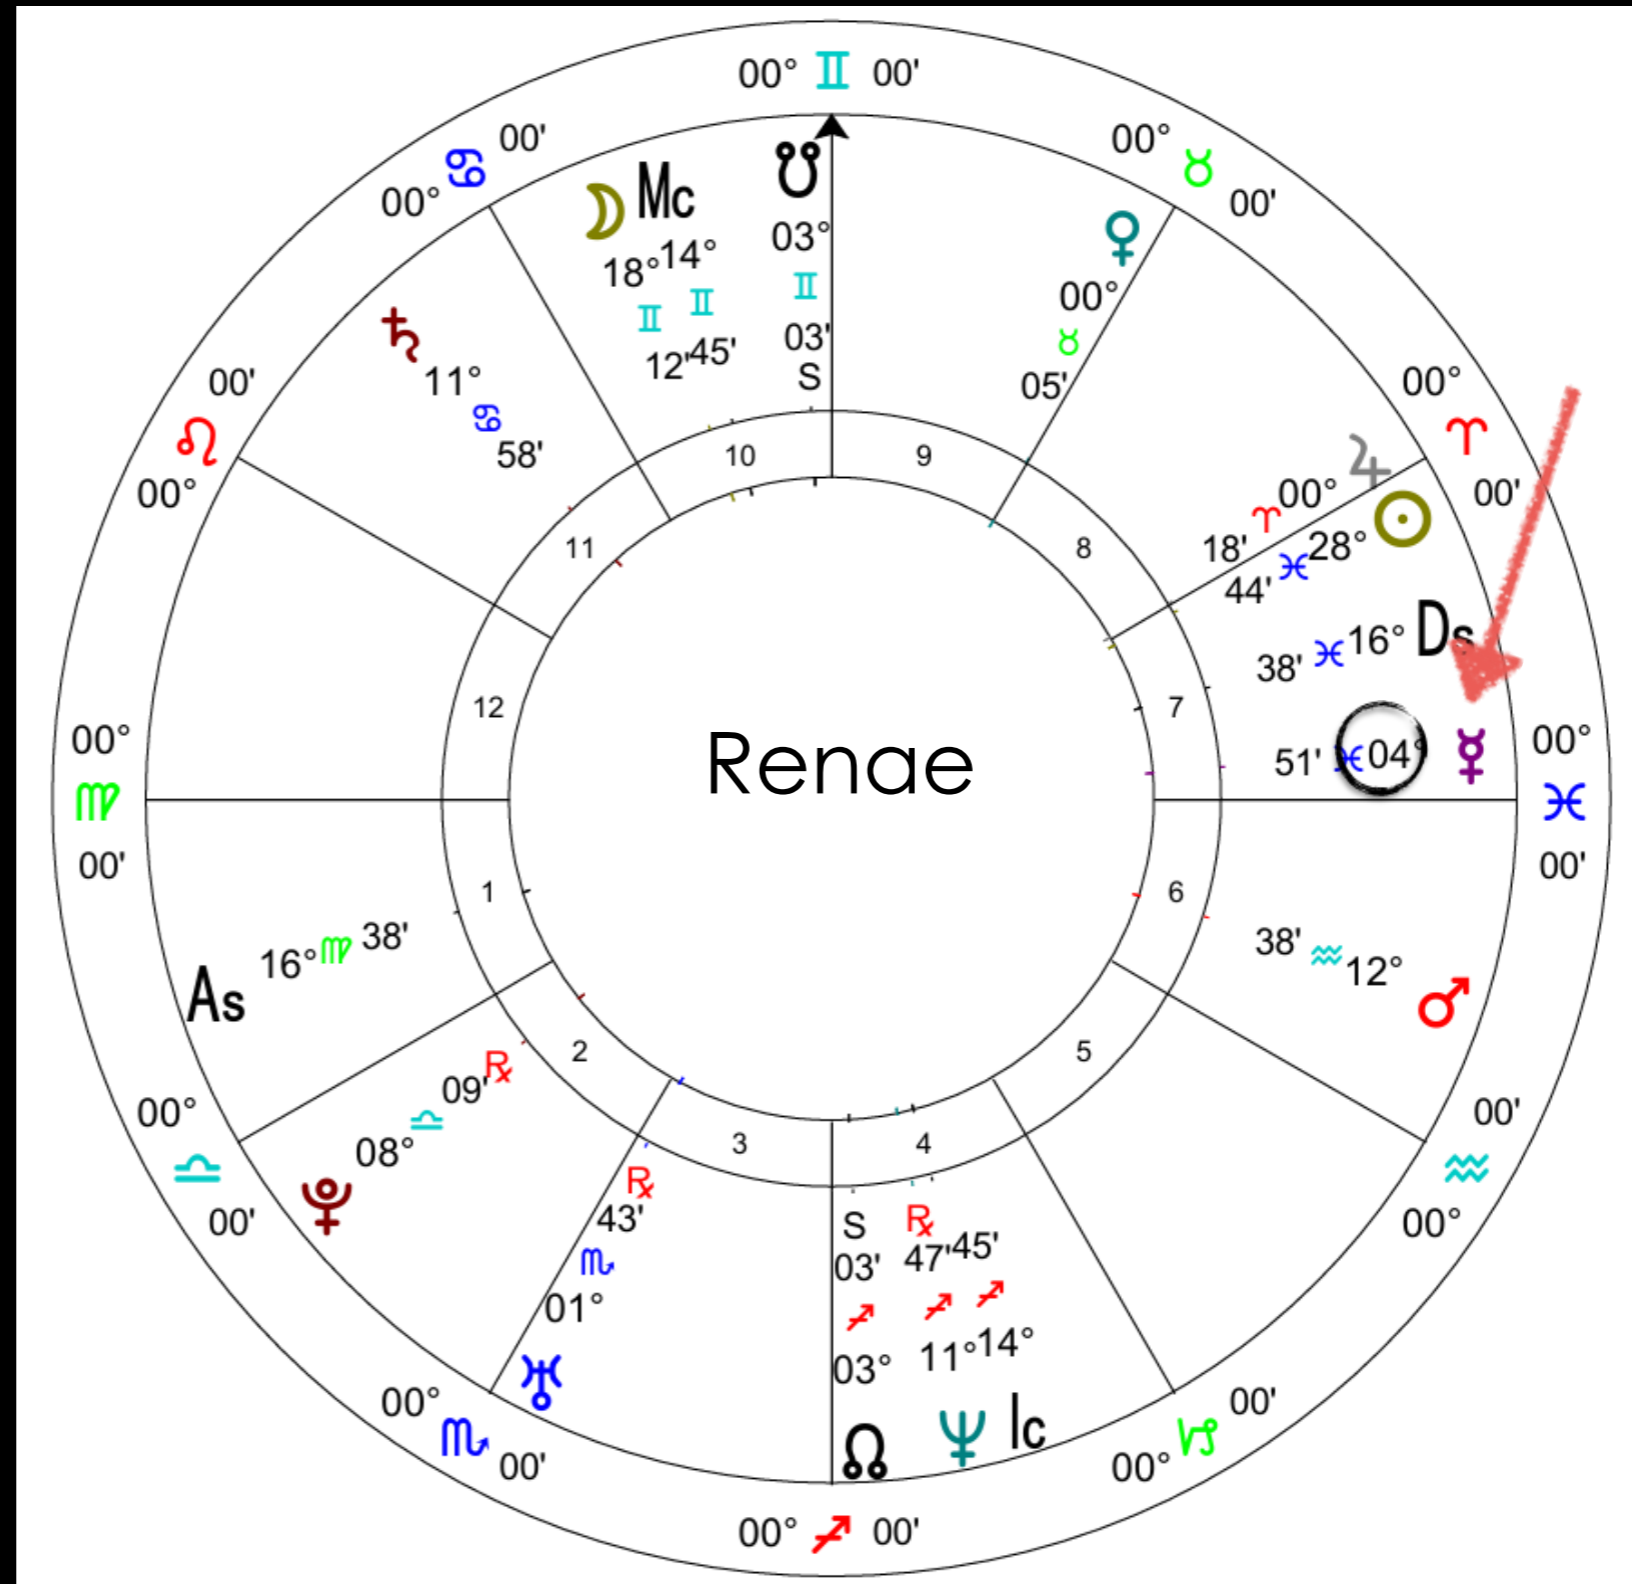

Mercury in HUMILITY

When you placed your Mercury in Humility, you accepted a very deep responsibility. Your mind must align itself with your own authentic self in order to work well. If you ever try to work outside that deep self-knowing, you get mentally confused. This is a challenge because you can get myopic if you allow yourself. Mercury in CREATIVITY

With your mental body in the principle of Creativity, we know that you do not think along linear, predictable, and patriarchal lines. This could have presented some challenges when you were trying to fit into the schooling mode, but it should serve you well in life. When you process information, you may put it together more like a jigsaw puzzle than like building blocks. And your conclusions and results, while solid and useful, are rarely "obvious." Your ability to use ideas to create is refreshing, and people are attracted to you because of it.

"... There is nothing wiser in all of humanity than the physical body. When a human being discovers this secret, they begin to tap the source of universal wisdom. Wisdom is rooted in utter trust of your body. Everything begins and ends with the body. If every feeling is allowed and lived out fully and in trust, then this deep inner vibration of fear within you must eventually fizzle out."
